

NHMRC Supporting Australian and New Zealand Health and Medical Research Students

Last week NHMRC sponsored the Australian Medical Students Association's (AMSA) Research Poster competition as a part of the 2008 AMSA convention. This year the competition attracted 41 entrants from Australian and New Zealand medical research students. Professor James Best, Chair of the NHMRC Research Committee relished the task of judging the top 15 dynamic entries.

Further information including competition winners and event photographs will be available on NHMRC's website shortly.
